The half million dollar facility was funded totally through insurance money from Camille damage, We Care funds and Governor's Emergency Council grants, after two bond attempts failed. The general public is urged to attend Sunday's event, McCullouch said. School Principal A. J. Necaise, faculty and school board members will be on hand as well. Registration will be held Friday at the new school and (Echo staff photo by Adoree Shortle) classes will begin September 5.

Four Young Men Chosen For National Publication

Four young men have been chosen for inclusion in the 1972 edition of "Outstanding Young Men of America" according to the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

Those chosen are Richard Thomas, Thomas Kidd, James Ginn and Dr. Michael Smith. Nominated by the Chamber earlier this year, the men were chosen for the annual awards volume in recognition of their professional and community leadership, a spokesman said today.

Sponsored by leading men's civic and service organizations, "Outstanding Young Men of America" honors men between the ages of 21 and 35 whose demonstrated excellence has marked them for future leadership in the nation. Thomas, 36 is presently employed by Moore and Powell and has been a resident of Bay St. Louis for eight years. A native of Pennsylvania, he is a former vice-president of the Jaycees and has served on the Board of directors for the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club. Warrants Served For Violations Of Health Ordinances

To date, a total of 20 warrants have been served to Bay St. Louis property owners for violations of city health ordinances, and seven convictions returned by city police justice Joseph Benvenutti, according to Wayne Alliston, Hancock County Health officer.

Alliston said the 20 were charged with failure to connect to the city sewer system under Section 1-2 of the Mississippi State Board of Health Rules concerning disposal of human excreta and other liquid wastes. In each case, he stated, property owners had been warned and directed to comply with the rule, through official notices.

Dialogues On Dope

by Adoree Shortle Echo staff writer

(This is the fourth and final article in a public service series on the narcotics Hobbs stated at a public situation in Hancock and West meeting last week that "seven Harrison Counties. Statements expressed in these. articles have been compiled from interviews with narcotics users and law enforcement officials in Christian and Long Beach.)

DIALOGUES FROM -THE OTHER SIDE

There is considerable variation of opinion between law enforcement officials in Hancock, and Harrison Counties concerning the extent of the narcotics problem on the coast. Although Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner feels Training that the narcotics abuse situation in his county is "a minor problem" and that less than 27 percent of the total county population turns on, Harrison County Sheriff Leroy out of ten youths turn on", and "the narcotics problem coastwide has reached serious epidemic proportions".

Hobbs has been dealing with the growing drug abuse Waveland, Bay St. Louis, Pass problem for several consecutive years by virtue of having progressed from Gulfport police chief to county sheriff, and is now considered somewhat of an authority in the field.

As well as extensive experience in his own area of jurisdiction, he has acquired a certain expertise through specialized training in schools that include the Federal Bureau of Investigation in School Washington, D.C., the Narcotics Abuse and Law Enforcement Academy in Miami, Fla. as well as numerous Mississippi state courses in Jackson and coast cities.

Hobbs' awareness of the drug "epidemic" on the coast has led to his initiating a carefully planned, wellexecuted drive aimed toward the apprehension of sellers and big pushers. Concentrated action over a period of months in cooperation with Jackson County law enforcement officials has paid off in last week's massive raid, resulting in some 70

His force of eight full time patrolmen is supported by 12 active and well trained auxiliaries. Through requested Law Enforcement Assistance Division funding, two of his regular officers have been trained as special investigators who work almost exclusively on drug abuse control.

Kaletsch gives much of the credit for a good department to the complete cooperation he receives from Mayor William Skellie and the city council. He has daily conferences with the Mayor who often accompanies the chief and his men on raids and vice crackdowns. The council, he said, always concurs with requests

In an effort to curb narcotics abuse in the early stages, Assistant Chief James Hanley has implemented a program of public seminars and meetings geared primarily toward parental education of drugs and youthful abusers. Although Kaletsch admits that there is still drug abuse and traffic in Long Beach, he estimates the percentage now as "very low", as according to state narcotics agents "its awful hard to make a buy in Long Beach". Speaking of Jerry Peralta has been chief of Pass Christian police since his discharge from military service in 1969. He has a force of five regular patrolmen, four paid by the city and one subsidized through federal funding. A roster of 15 unpaid auxiliaries supplements his regulars who protect a city of approximately 3,000.

Peralta estimates that about 15 percent of the city's total population turns on to drugs and of that figure he feels that 80 to 90 percent is strictly marijuana. He has responsible for four narcoticsdiscussed the situation with "one or two city councilmen"

The Basket Of Light

A Fairy Tale For Today

by Adoree Shortle

Echo staff writer Once upon a time there was a young man who was very good at making things out of leaded stained glass. He had a friend, another young man who was very good at making things out of wax.

He made lovely candles of every size, shape and color imaginable. The first young man made beautiful lamp shades, mobiles and things you would never think of out of stained glass.

Their names were George Reed and Tommy Johnston. The two friends had other friends who could make beautiful things just with their imaginations and two hands.

whose bright colors are muted with age. Outside, they painted the little house a happy yellow and put potted plants on the porch.

The two friends told all their other friends and everyone else they met who could make anything to bring their gifts to the shop to be sold.

Pretty soon, the little shop was filled with every kind of article you could imagine, and a lot you would never imagine.

Besides the bright candles and stained glass objects, there were things made of sand, driftwood, old lumber, bottles, pottery and material. There were beautiful hand wrought So one day, the two young men said, wouldn't it be great to jewelry, paintings, flowers hangings, pictures and purses. There were even good things to eat like jars of watermelonrind pickles, and homemade pickled vegetables and jellies.

The only stipulation for articles in the shop is that they are handmade. Nothing is manufactured or mass produced.

"What we are trying to do," George said, "is to encourage a return to handcrafting, to bring back the old way of gifting. Things are so impersonal now, the basic reason for giving a gift is getting lost. We're trying to bring back the good feeling a person gets when he has made something himself and the pleasure of giving something that has been made by hand, with love.

There are so many people in this area who are really creative," he added, "but who don't realize their is a market for these things."

And that's the reason for the unusual shop. To encourage a return to handcraft and to provide a market place for others to come and buy.

Oh yes. In every fairy tale there's a princess and at the Basket of Light there is one. too. Her name is Joni and she is George's wife. She is very pretty and very gracious and is one of reasons the Basket of Light is such a nice place to

What does it feel like to be a McGovern Supporter in Mississippi? In the genre of "Gentlemen's Agreement" and "I Led Three Lives", a Coast resident (who, because of health and safety reasons, prefers to remain anonymous) has written a novel entitled, "I Passed As A Republican".

In his book, he describes his encounters with the people of the Mississippi Gulf Coast:

"Everywhere I went I was forced to wear a Nixon button on my lapel. In the beginning, I used to wear my McGovern button pinned to my chest but I soon found this to be too painful. and had to move it to my inside coat pocket.

"In restaurants I would overhear people talking about McGovern, saying he would ruin this country. I was asked what I would do with my $6500 if old George was elected. I would smile, shake my head and mumble, "Nixon's the One".

"There were so many times I wanted to profess my support of McGovern but fear of being ostracized and ridiculed stopped me,

"One day I recognized another secret McGovern supporter in Bay St. Louis, I knew he was one of us because he appeared to be nervous-his eyes were bloodshot and he kept running behind trees and in doorways while I was trying to talk to him.

"So, I lived in one small room, just going to and from my job everyday. Late at night, I would lock the door, close the blinds and spread my McGovern campaign material on

Dear Sir;

This weekend a fair will be held in Waveland on Coleman Ave and Beach Boulevard. The fireman in Hancock County need all of our support. Most of our fireman are volunteers all the way from the Kiln, Bay St. Louis, Waveland, East-Hancock, Lakeshore and Pearlington. These men volunteer their services and now they are asking for one can of food from every home in Hancock County, as a donation, so that they can help make their Fire Depts. Stronger and give us better protection. Make you donation today at the nearest fire station. These firemen will appreciate this gift and make their fair a huge success. WRONG CLAIM NUMBER CAN DELAY MEDICARE PAYMENT

People covered by Medicare can assure faster payment of their medical insurance claims if they made sure their correct claim number is on the form, according to Joseph D. Alfonso, representative of the Gulfport social security office.

Use of the wrong claim number, or omission of the number entirely, is responsible for one of every three delays in the payment of medical insurance claims, he reminded that when a burial policy exists and it is payable to the funeral home or the person providing services or merchandise or payment to the person or firm rendering burial or funeral services, no payment will be made by the VA to such person except where the policy or contract did not cover the entire cost of burial, funeral or transportation. If the burial or insurance policy is to be paid in cash to a designated beneficiary and not the firm appropriate as explained rendering burial or funeral services, then the burial allowance may be paid to the Funeral Home. In other words the full face value of the burial policy must be used and the VA burial allowance considered as part of the insurance policy. 2. If a veteran has an acciden or medical insurance policy in force at the time of his death which provides payment to a beneficiary other than the person rendering funeral or burial services it will be considered as life insurance and will be consiered as income when figuring the windows pension but will not affect payment of the burial allowance to the Funeral Home. If under the terms of the policy or contract the company is liable directly to the firm rendering funeral services, it will be considered as burial insurance issued by a burial association. In the event the policy pays the. complete expense of the funeral, no burial benefits are payable, since there is no expense to the window. Burial benefits are only payable when there is an expense to the widow and then in the amount of the difference between burial insurance and the actual cost of the funeral. When applying for the VA burial benefit be sure you have your record of the funeral expenses showing how much was paid by the burial policy (if any) and the total cost paid by the widow. Also

In January, Ladner acquired an investigating agent through the President's Emergency Employment Act. Neither Ladner nor any of his deputies has had any training in narcotics abuse or control, However, special agent Ronald Peterson has attended a six-weeks school in Basic Law Enforcement and Invectigation, held at the academy in Jackson.

Although he regards the. narcotics abuse problem in Hancock County as minimal at this point, Ladner says he. does feel that preventive measures are necessary "to stop the problem before it gets started, or gets to be a major problem." He said he has have had any specialized discussed the situation with State Narcotics Bureau Director Kenneth Fairley and has in the past expressed a need for assistance. He Gulfport Carbonette said he commended that agency for has attended seminars on immediate response to any drugs, but none in the past six

Although Ladner said he has had no requests for assistance from Waveland and Bay St. Louis Chiefs, police officers in Waveland have called on Peterson in instances of narcotics-related arrests. In the first-seven months of this year, 42 persons have been arrested in Hancock County on narcotics charges, the majority for possession. Working under limited Waveland Marshal Fred Bourgeois admits there is a dope problem in Waveland, but said he has no particular plans for narcotics abuse control in the near future. He feels narcotics use in his city is restricted to under 25-yearolds and estimates the number at about 30 percent.

He says he has discussed the situation with the Mayor and members of the city council but has not requested any extra personnel or programs to combat the further spread of dope abuse. City fathers have agreed, he said, that there is a problem but bleave it up to me to take care of it". As an elected official, Bourgeois is in his 22nd year existence of a problem, as Waveland Marshal and tax Hancock County authorities collector. He has no regular personnel but has 12 auxiliary patrolmen who work on a scheduled basis for which they are paid according to hours worked.

Neither the Marshal nor any of his men have had any training in narcotics control. There is no display kit in the station for narcotics recognition, but he does have a sampling kit for spot identification. He has also a narcotics information pamphlet which he said the men are required to read. He added that he is aware that there are numerous facilities and source material available to police departments but hasn't made any effort to obtain any.

Concerning recent police would greatly improve legislation covering narcotics laws, Bourgools said city attorney Lucien Gex has a copy of state laws on arrests and convictions but he (Bourgeois) has not obtained a copy for police use,

The Marshal said he had not. requested any help from the state bureau for an agent, but has discussed the situation in Waveland with the sheriff. Bourgeois said he had asked both the sheriff and Peterson for help as "we don't ever refuse help when we can get Waveland police have been responsible for six narcotics arrests in the last six months, five in one case, and one other in an unrelated case.

Although the department does not have a narcotics display kit, Carbonette has one large and two smaller narcotics sampling test kits available for police use, There is also a good bit of informational material, books and pamphlets kept in the station which he requires the men to read.

There is no man on the force now qualified for narcotics investigation nor is there any specific program underway in narcotics control. No narcotics related arrests have been made by Bay police in the last six months.

To rectify the situation, Carbonette said he feels a well trained special agent is vitally needed on the city force and plans to ask the city council for approval to initiate action along this line, Carbonette is obtaining a set of Mississippi code books with amendements showing all latest legislative changes, assource material for the department.

He has not requested any assistance from the sheriff or the county investigating agent.

A compilation of law enforcement interview material indicates that even though all six officials in four cities and two counties admit to the are taking a considerably more passive view than those in Harrison County.

There is apparently more inter-agency cooperation and cohesion in Harrison than there is in Hancock, where officials seem to prefer to work on an independent basis.

On a broader level, District Attorney Albert Necaise and Coast Crime Commission Director Earl Riley have both stated publicly that the narcotics abuse problem on the Gulf Coast is "widespread and of serious epidemic propor-

Bay Voters Will Decide NDP Plan

Despite objections by Mayor Warren Carver, the city council voted Monday to call a referendum for Sept. 26 on Neighborhood Development Program in Bay St; Louis.

Mayor Carver expressed the opinion that a referendum was not necessary and was not in. the best interests of the program. He added, however, that he was still in favor of the project. Commissioner William Frisble pointed out that both he and City Attorney Gerald Gex had read the statutes concerning special programs and had concluded that approval by the people

In other council action, the city agreed to hire Sanitrol System to remove algae overgrowth in the city's sewerage treatment pond. The work will be performed over four-week period.

Mayor Carver also voted against a resolution to support the establishment of a state firefighting training school. Commission Andre Arceneaux proposed the resolution saying that this school was necessary to upgrade all fire departments in the state. In a twoto-one vote, Carver said that he did not see the necessity for such a school.

Cuevas-Ladner Vows Exchanged

Miss Barbara Ann Ladner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oris Ladner of Lakeshore, Miss., became the bride of Berlyn Joseph Cuevas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Cuevas of Kiln, Miss., in a candlelight ceremony at 7 p.m. August 19 in St. John Catholic Church, Lakeshore.

Rev. Plerre Hissey performed the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked by baskets of white gladioli, daisies, fern and branched candelabra accented by lighted tapers. Mrs. Terrence Asher, organist, played the traditional wedding marches. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional ante-bellum styled gown, The fitted bodice: featured a high neckline trimmed in seed pearls and long Bishop sleeves. Cascading ruffles of scalloped Chantilly lace swept into a cathedral train. Her elbow length veil of illusion fell from she carried a heart-shaped bouquet of white carnations with ribbon streamers in rainbow shades.

Mrs. Beverly Marquar, Lakeshore, attended her sister as matron of honor and Miss Beverly Ladner, Bay St. Louis, served as maid of Bridesmaids were Mrs. Earline Duprey, Kiln, sister of the groom, Mrs. Lucy Luxich, Bay St. Louis, Mrs. Jeannie Spiers, Lakeshore, and Mrs. Rhonda Sones, Waveland, cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Janice Ladner, the bride's sister-in-law. Serving as junior bridesmaids were Misses Belinda Ladner, sister of the bride, Connie Duprey, Kiln, Karen Shiyou, and Rachel Austin. Tammy Ladner, niece of the bride served as flower girl and Scottie Duprey, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer. Kelly Necaise, Kiln, attended the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Ed a small headpiece em-bellished with seed pearls and in-law, Gary Cuevas, Teddy Summer Finale!

Junior, Misses, Ladies Ready-To-Wear

AT SAVINGS

Is it a sandwich? Yes . . . and a whole meal, too - the kind of lively and light repast summor appetites crave, especially on one of those "let's don't have too much to eat" evenings.

For starters on the California Wicherab — combine flaked crabmeat (canned or frozen) with shredded Monterey Jack or Colby cheeze, water chestnuts and mayonnaise. Flavoriul authority comes with the addition of chopped green onion, lemon Juice. scasoned salt, soy sauce and a dash of hot pepper. The mix-ture is evenly divided among six toasted English mullins, then sprinkled with more cheese, broiled and served open-faced and garnished with pimiento strips.

Enriched English mullins give their own special flavor and texture to this blissful summer sandwich. They also provide a nutrition "plue" because they contain additional Buitamins — thiamine, niacin and riboflavin and iron, all important dictary homises at no extra cost.

WE SALUTE the American Worker on the o other country in the world can offer to its citizens the high standard of living that is found in America,

The wage-earner in our country has a buying power unequaled in all the world . . . a "lifestyle" not known elsewhere.

America is rich in natural resources, but the skill of our people who process these materials is what truly makes us a great nation.

So, let us resolve on this LABOR DAY to continue our desire to work, where citizens have the freedom to choose the type of work 'best-suited' for them.

This basic desire to work, will keep our nation strong.

I recently visited a friend in Tuscaloosa, Alababama. When I arrived in the stinky paper mill town she told me Iwas just in time to see the pollution at danger levels in Birmingham. The radio had announced that the Environmental Protection Agency had ordered a partial shut down of the steel mills and it was advised that you not come out of your homes unnecessarily. So my friend suggested that we go into Birmingham the next day! Well due to circumstances it go and by that time the danger level had passed and less than half the steel mills were being used, but it was enough to make me say, "Thank God I don't have to live here".

Somehow, by saying that I felt protected, until on my ride back to Bay St. Louis I observed a haze which was

Bank Women To Be Honored By Special Week

Mayor Warren Carver of Bay St. Louis has issued an official proclamation designating, September 17-23, 1972 as Bank-Women's Week in Bay St. Louis: The proclamation was issued in tribute to the many women working in the banking industry in Mississippi and in recognition of the significant role played in the financial community by members of the National Association of Bank-Women Inc., currently observing its golden an-

I have been curious about this haze that has been occurring off and on all through the summer. Many times I've said to myself, "This is Bay St. Louis.

It can't be air pollution."

However, the fact is that the whole earth is becoming engulfed by a mass of filthy atmosphere. The "haze" that we have been observing is the first visual sign of this stagnant air mass. Certain weather conditions make it clear up a little at times but on was five days before we got to a long term basis polution is getting worse-fast! Won't be long now until local hunters will be cleaning up their gums and taking to the woods to hunt doves. The season opens in September. Hope the weather will be P. M., Main St. Methodist much cooler than it is now. Hunters of the prized birds should be making the rounds soon to find out where the birds are and get the landowners' permission to hunt in their fields. That should be a must. Don't go into fields without permission. That is sportsman like and a sure way to go back again. Fishermen will welcome colder weather also. That is when they go to under water baits for bass, perch and speckle trout, after a good summer of catching fish on surface baits.

After October Rabbit. squirrel and of course water fowl hunting will be the order of the day. According to predictions hunting will be good when the different seasons open. This columnwill announce the opening of all seasons when the time comes. A source of information is the pamphlet given when a hunting license is purchased. Get one, it will come in handy.

Received a souvenir fishing cap from the recent Empire South Pass Rodeo. Thanks to Charley Prest who does quite a bit of deep sea fishing out of Empire, La.

All summer while fishing it is not uncommon to see all kinds of birds that are native to this section of the country, for instance, rails, marsh hens and some ducks that migrate here and remain here. which threatened with extinction are making their appearance in nearby marshes again. Gallinules and rails which eat marsh plants - mainly seeds but some roots and leaves and a few small animals can be seen emerging along the banks of most streams, feeding. There should be some good shooting, come

Local ponds and lakes which are now covered with grass will be fishable during the winter, furnish some mighty good fishing, especially for bass and perch.

While cleaning fresh water fish have noticed they are feeding now on crayfish, real small crabs, frogs, fiddlers and minnows. Later when the above baits are scarce they will take underwater baits and plugs. A black gnat and spinner will be hard to beat for catching them.

Hard crabs are giving again. They are being gotten in crab traps, crab nets and even caught on hook and line. The canals just off the beach at Bayou Caddy is a fine place to get them. It is fun catching them and profitable too. We think fish heads are the best for baiting traps and nets. Ever try steaming hard crabs? Makes for good eating.

Attended the wedding of our grandson Pat Haggerty over the week end in New Orleans. Pat is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Haggerty. Spent a few days with the family in the big city. No time for fishing. Toobusy socializing, etc.

Trying for speckle trout and what have you were Tut Monti, Red Seymour and Uncle Bud Seiler in Upper Camp Bell Bayou and Pearl River. Didn't get many fish but a bunch of big hard crabs. You know there was a crab boil.

Seasons change from fishing, crabbing, floundering in the summer time to duck hunting in Winter time.

At a special meeting of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission held in Baton Rouge today with the primary action being setting of the hunting seasons for ducks, geese and coots, the Commission also considered the request from the Arkansas Fish and Game Commission for an additional 100 alligators for restocking purposes in that

Within the past two months, an earlier request from the state of Arkansas was granted and 48 alligators were trapped and transported to that state for restocking purposes.

The reason for these notices about hunting in Louisiana, most of our duck hunters hunt in Louisiana out in the marshes and catch most of their speckle trout, red fish, etc. in the summer time in the sams

Eddie Marquez's Lounge on the beach is getting more and more popular with fishermen Not for tire tracks on their return home from fishing. Get some mighty big yarns about how large they were and how many got away. Eddie himself is a flounderer and soft crabber. Like most of us he is not doing too hot in getting them. Looks good to see a few cars on the beach at night again.

Flounders are being caught while fishing on the bottom with dead shrimp and cut bait in Heron Bay, Bayou Boland, Three Oaks and Red Fish Bayou. Red fish can also be caught at these spots. Skiffs can be secured at La France's fishing camp down at Ansley and balt is usually available.

Pearl River and its tributaries are all clear at this time. Bass and perch are being caught regularly while speckle trout fishing will be good as soon as a little cooler. weather arrives. Mullatto Bayou, Cross Bayou and lower Pearl River furnish excellent fishing for the speckled beauties.
